KEYSTONER COLLECTS TOLL

Democrats can not help from smiling at the spectacle of the Republican Campaign Committee trying to arouse enthusiasm for the figurehead nominee of the little group of foolish Senators and the big moneyed interests. The plans of Figurehead Harding's backers have certainly gone wrong. As everyone knows, it was intended that the old gentleman should sit on his porch at Marion O'Leary and the boogie boys would furnish the fireworks with a few set speeches delivered from the porch. The audiences would be composed of Republican office-holders and chairmen brought from the different sections of the country and the press agents would give out statements of the "representative audience that heard Senator Harding."

Recently the Hart-Scary-Chilton machine of this section sent up one of those "representative audiences," the machine footing the bill for any old idler that cared to make the trip. All required in return was that he must be a good shouter for the Republican cause. But when they saw these jaunting trips have been stopped and poor Harding has been forced off the porch by the trend of sentiment for Gov. Cox. The G. O. P. nominee is being jerked about the country by the masses of the voters, who thus far haven't been able to see Warren Gamaliel. On June 15 the Louisville Herald, the machine organ of the Republican party here, was distinctly peeved over Harding's selection and in an editorial said the "convention was bossed by a few men, and that in answer to calls for a speaker who wasn't agreeable to the bosses the Chairman would say that he was not in the hall." Subsequently the Herald said further that it congratulated "the Senate group who picked the nominee," and then went on to say that it doubted if Harding could win without getting the "dependent vote," meaning that the machine selection did not appeal to the people. But the bosses' whip cracked and the Herald fell in line, and on Harding's appearance here a loss for votes, and a slobber over Warren Gamaliel, whom it couldn't see on June 15, just following the Republican convention when Tobe Hart and his man Lowden were tricked by the sly old Senator. To demonstrate Harding's strength the Herald has been publishing straw votes or straw dope from the pill shop boxes, but for some unknown reason will not publish the straw vote taken in its own office. In a straw vote taken in the mechanical department of the Herald the vote was Cox twenty-six and Harding three.

The publication of the registration figures in Louisville show the claim of control of the Republican party by the colored Republicans is a just one and the 25,000 negro men and women who registered with the G. O. P. are entitled to seats in the party councils. And realizing that strength, the negroes have already served notice on the Hart-Scary-Chilton machine that from now on they want to be on equal footing with the whites. The Republican bench has been notified in no uncertain terms that if the Republicans elect the city ticket next year there must be negro police, negro firemen, negro officials in the City Hall, negro women in the public offices, and pressure brought to bear on the street car company for negro motormen and conductors. It is also understood that Shawnee Park is to be the colored playground and the Republican Board of Park Commissioners are afraid right now to deny that the negroes will be given that park for themselves.

Rev. M. P. Hunt, the well known Baptist minister and dyed in the wool Republican of the better type, can now testify that the negroes have begun a fight on segregation. Rev. Hunt in company with other white ministers attended services in the colored church on West Chestnut last Sunday to invite the colored ministers and their flocks to take part in the big Gypsy Smith revival meeting to be conducted under the auspices of the Protestant church leaders. Rev. Hunt announced that seventy seats had been reserved for the colored preachers and separate seats for the good colored brothers and sisters in the audience. This brought the storm and from all parts of the house the colored cried: "Not for us, we'll sit with the whites or not at all," and Rev. Hunt was practically booed off the platform. Then to add to the humiliation of the white ministers Archibald J. Carey, of Chicago, a colored leader and Methodist negro Bishop, denounced Hunt's invitation as an insult and said that the negroes from now on would wage warfare "on the iniquitous and damnable laws forced on the colored people by the railroad and the police." The colored Bishop from Chicago was heartily applauded and the taboo was put on the Gypsy Smith revival as far as the colored brothers and sisters were concerned. But what an awful blow for a staunch Republican and party worker like Rev. Hunt to be snubbed and booed by his fellow Republican brothers and sisters.

This is the season for high records. Babe Ruth sets a record goes through four home runs. Man of War breaks the turf record. Jack Dempsey obtains a high place in prize ring history, but for a real high record we would like to see the official list of wrecks and collisions of the police and fire department in Louisville since the "reform" administration took hold. Daily and nightly come stories of smashups and wrecks until the poor suffering taxpayers wonder if there is any apparatus left. When the dear Mayor and his crew go out they can always point with pride to one department that never loafed on the job or had a political sinecure, and that is the repair shop for the police and fire department. No matter how large the crew there they must be overworked when one considers the awful destructive powers of the Keystoners and "hick" firemen when they go out on a run. Fire chief Neusewander staged a "movie" last Saturday that ought to make a hit. A make believe fire was staged at the Willard with comedy rescue performances by the "hicks." Great stress was laid on the speed of the department getting there, etc., but the describers failed to add that everything was set for the "movie" show. First the Keystoner police cleared the streets so the department would have none of the usual wrecks and then men went through every floor of the hotel raising the windows FROM THE INSIDE so the boys could perform. Wonder Paul Burlingame and the near Mayor didn't award medals for this heroic (?) work.

You've heard of the champion mean man who robs the blind fiddler or steals a baby's candy, but a new candidate for "grouch" honors has appeared in the field and deserves consideration. The Republican Campaign Committee is collecting $7.50 each from the women employed at the Alms House, our pauper institution. Old Capt. Kidd, Jesse James and all of the ancient pirates and bandits must have fared over in their graves when they heard of the Republican machine of Louisville collecting money in the home of the poverty stricken and unfortunate. What a conscience the bird must have that personally looted the poor house to stage this holdup.

No one had better quote the old adage about casting your bread on the waters to Patrolman William Stiefvater, who resigned the other day but didn't tell why, adding that he was still a good Republican, which means they will put him on again when the public isn't looking. Stiefvater was stationed in the Sixth district and one of his important police duties was to go to the baking company at Seventh and Magnolia every morning at 4:30 and get free bread for his Sergeant and superior officers. One fine morning last week our noble officer vended his way to get his daily bread and also the daily bread of his fellow Keystoners. Along comes his Sergeant, finds him missing from the 4:30 post and reports him. Stiefvater resigns under fire, the Board of Safety doesn't tell why and a solar plexus is given the old parable about casting your bread on the waters, etc. Stiefvater now misses the dough he received for polling while his fellow Keystoners hunger for fresh bread and the baking company officers say they knead the bread.

Residents and occupants in the neighborhood of Fifth and Jefferson are mystified and puzzled about one of the Keystoners who the traffic officer told them to get out of the way. He is a good Republican, but he is keeping a toll-gate or running opposition to the Piggy-Wiggy where you wait on yourself. This traffic director collects toll from many wagons and vehicles passing and it is no uncommon sight for him to be seen with two or three canteloupes and a bottle of milk at his feet, while his pockets bulge with peaches, apples, fruits of all kinds and what not. If the church if this Keystoner is hiding his light under a bushel and ought to be working for the Republican Campaign Committee in gathering assessments. Anyway his taking or collecting ways have obtained in common with other women what he does with a big day's collection. But the majority are anxious to see what will happen if a driver comes by with a load of pianos or a warehouse delivery wagon comes by with a load of hoghead tobacco.

MESSAGE TO SISTERS.

Supplementing his general advice to women to register and vote, Cardinal Gibbons issued an oral statement through his secretary Monday, urging Sisters of the various orders to the church to take similar steps. In his message to the Sisters, the Cardinal emphasized the fact that they were in no sense forced to register and vote, but that nevertheless it was a duty which belonged to them in common with other women. He recommended strongly that this duty be observed.

LOUISVILLE MEN HONORED.

Those elected were: Colonel Frank Bloomer, 1422 Peter avenue; Lieutenant Colonel, Philip Dant, 1509 Rosewood avenue; Revenue Collector, Cornie Pfeiffer, 940 Cherry row; Stillhouse Watch, Bernard Campbell, 1535 Tyler Park drive. A banquet, smoker and dance soon will be given by the club.

DEMOCRATS OF DIFFERENT CALIBER.

Gov. Cox, Democratic nominee for President, says he will aid Ireland's cause, but Beckham, Democratic Senatorial nominee for re-election, says he will not recognize Ireland and voted against a resolution of sympathy.

IRELAND'S CONDITION

The Black and Tan Murders and Outrages Being Perpetrated Upon Inoffensive and Suffering Women, Children and People Are Like unto the Atrocities of the Bashi Bazouks.

Their Stay in the Country Means Worse Crimes and Sir Frederic Maurice and Sir Herbert Gough Demand the Instant Withdrawal of This Disreputable and Mercenary Force.

THE PRESENT STATE OF AFFAIRS IS WORST EVER KNOWN IN HISTORY

Britain's military autocracy in Ireland has received its severest castigation from the pens of two of its most distinguished generals: Major Gen. Sir Frederic Maurice and Lieut. Gen. Sir Hubert Gough. Gen. Maurice, who is one of the most respected critics of Winston Churchill's war machine, Gen. Gough was one of the heroes of the world war and is now one of the highest officials in the British army. Both men are disgusted with the military government in Ireland and both predict the direst consequences if the present plan for ruling Ireland remains in force. Gen. Maurice's ire is directed against the "Black and Tans," the branch of the British military machine holding forth in Ireland. This organization, he says, "is armed and wears khaki, but the members are not soldiers, and the army is not responsible for their discipline, organization and training." He is exceptionally bitter about the loose discipline now common to the crown forces in Ireland. In caustic terms he criticizes the intentions of the Government, and demands the immediate withdrawal of this auxiliary force, created within the past two months.

Gen. Gough is still more emphatic in his demands that the military and semi-military be taken away from the harassed people of Ireland. "I do not think," he says, "that any truthful or sane person can avoid the conclusion that the authorities in Ireland are deliberately encouraging, and what is more, actually murdering by the armed forces of the crown."

Describing the "Black and Tans," Gen. Maurice says: "They are under the command of Gen. Tulloh, who distinguished himself greatly during the great German attacks in the spring of 1916. He is not a subordinate of the Commander-in-Chief in Ireland, but is called the police adviser to the Viceroy, which means Sir Hamar Greenwood. The relations between the army and the police are well illustrated by what has recently happened in County Clare. A party of police, mainly 'Black and Tans,' on patrol in a motor lorry, were ambushed, and five of their number killed. Soldiers came up in other motor lorries and drove off the Sinn Fein. That night the 'Black and Tan' invaded three villages, looting and burning houses, killing innocent persons and terrifying women and children. The soldiers under their officers turned out, and helped rescue the women and children and put out the flames."

The army has made mistakes because it has been asked to do an impossible job, but it is a gross libel on the army to say that it is responsible for, or has any sympathy with, outrages which are only distinguishable from many outrages carried out also in the form of reprisals, by the German army in Belgium in 1914, because the German soldiers acted under the orders of their highest military authorities and the "Black and Tans" do not. The result of the creation of this force has been to increase the number of murders. It is producing a peculiarly revolting form of guerrilla warfare, in which the chief sufferers are women and children. This must be stopped at once. The only way to stop it is to disband the "Black and Tans," who ought never to have been created. The present state of affairs makes peace by negotiation impossible. England must make up her mind that she must have either peace or war with Ireland. Obviously she does not want war, therefore it is high time she took steps to prevent herself from drifting into war."

The following is a partial list of the acts of oppression committed in Ireland by the police and military of the usurping English Government, as reported in the daily press:

The Limerick Press Club was raided by police, who forced an entrance. Presses and boxes were searched. P. Crowley, who was recently released from Limerick Jail, is seventy-five years old. His business premises were burned down some weeks ago by men who arrived in motors, the damage being $100,000. Two of his sons are dying in Cork Jail, another is in an English prison, and two others are on the run.

Kilmallock Workhouse has been taken over by the military on an order under the defense of the realm regulations, signed by Brig. Gen. Cameron. This makes three military barracks now in Kilmallock. Raids and searches by military are reported from Newmarket, Balinamuck, Carrick-on-Suir, Letterkenny, New Ross, Derry, Longford and other centers.

A young man named Allen, said to be a painter from Cork, was arrested by military at Middleton. The reason for the arrest is unknown. A number of houses in the town were afterwards searched for a local man who is "on the run."

Military and police searched the Meenakehy district, Banteer, in search of Denis Galvin. His bicycle, some correspondence and a photo of him in uniform were taken away. Charles Fitzpatrick, a prominent Sinn Feiner, was arrested by the police at Ballinagh. The charge, if any, is unknown. Pierce Bolger, carpenter, was arrested by military in Gowran and taken to Kilkenny Jail. A blacksmith named Moore, of Ballinacrusa, Co. Wick, was arrested by military and taken handcuffed to Belmont hutments.

The flat in Leinster road, Rathmines, occupied by J. J. Doyle and his sister, Miss C. M. Doyle, P. L. G., was raided by military and an exhaustive search, lasting over two hours, was made; £22 in gold, some documents and literature, and a box of photographic negatives were taken.

The house of A. McGloughlin, C. C. Sandymount, was raided and searched. Some correspondence and election literature were taken away. J. Collins, U. D. C., and his son Patrick, and Daniel Collins, arrested by military in Listowel, were released the same day. It was explained that a gentleman named Collins, who is "on the run," was in Listowel, and the military, in the course of their raids, arrested anybody named Collins, but did not get the man wanted.

Military restrictions in Swinford district are getting more exacting. Raids have now been extended to the national schools, both male and female. Just before Meelick school had closed for the day a cycling detachment arrived and made a minute search of the building, to the consternation of the teachers and children.

A party of police entered several business premises in Frenchpark, County Roscommon, and dragged out assistants, whom they forced to leave the town under threat of their lives. One of the proprietors was subsequently informed by a policeman that "if any of the assistants were taken back there would be no accountability for their safety."

John J. O'Keefe, Secretary Sinn Fein Club, Carrick-on-Suir, was arrested with others at Cashel, and conveyed to Tipperary. Military have occupied the vacant workhouse at Cookstown.

Twenty houses in Galway have been "commandeered" by the police, and the families have had to leave. Athboy was visited by military, who arrested William Nolan, St. Michael's terrace, and removed him to the Curragh.

Military have taken possession of the greater part of Tuam Workhouse, including the Boardroom, where Sinn Fein Courts have been held. Over 150 "Black and Tans" have taken up possession in Annagh demesne and house, Ballylunin, four miles from Tuam.

The summary of official reports of outrages says Tallyho House, Deerpark, Athlery, was maliciously burned down.

A large detachment of soldiers has arrived in Omagh, and the military authorities have commandeered the Town Hall and the County Court House.

The military authorities stopped the monthly fair at Middleton, and a fair announced to be held at Newtownshandrum, Charleville, which is outside the curfew area.

British military cut off all traffic on the main road from Ballyvolane, four miles from Cork, and scoured the countryside, raiding farm houses and searching fields and gardens. Some twenty private houses were thus raided.

At 12:30 in the morning a party of British military accompanied by one policeman broke down the main door of Higgins' licensed premises, Upper Abbey street, Dublin, in the absence of the owner and rushed into the house brandishing revolvers. The caretaker and manager were held up while the rooms were completely searched. The raid lasted three hours.

On the same night another party of British military made a two hours' search of the house of J. Toomey, Cloncliff avenue, Dublin. When the military left they took with them a bag of scrapiron which they subsequently described as a "sack of bombs."

British military raided seventeen private houses in Dunganran, County Waterford. Among the houses raided was that of M. Greaney, Republican member of the Local District Council. A raid was also carried out on the Dunganran Gas Works.

The residence of Major McCarthy O'Leary at Coomlogane, County Cork, was forcibly entered and raided by British troops, who broke doors and windows in their search. Major O'Leary is at present on active service with the British forces.

At Drummee, County Leitrim, British military and police raided over twenty houses. British troops accompanied by an armored car and two machine guns surrounded the offices of the Cork Examiner—a Nationalist newspaper—while other parties of troops forcibly entered and searched the premises.

Forty-one persons were arrested on the streets of Cork on a charge of being "abroad" between 10 p. m. and 3 a. m. without permission of the British military authorities.

Sixteen persons were arrested on the streets of Dublin on the same charge.

Joseph Toomey and two lodgers—D. Loxley and P. McNamara—were arrested in their beds at the house of the former, Cloncliff avenue, Dublin, by British military and police. No charge was brought against them. P. Greaney and Laurence Condon were arrested in their homes at Dunganran, County Waterford, by a midnight raiding party of British troops. The "offense" for which they have been arrested is one of acting as voluntary police in their district.

A young man named Rogan was arrested at the Dunganran Gas Works by British police and military. No charge was brought against him.

In County Galway British police raided Kilmacduagh graveyard and spiked the ground in order to ascertain if any burials had recently been made.

At Oola, County Tipperary, British police partially wrecked the residence of Mrs. Stapleton by means of an explosive bomb. Mrs. Stapleton's son is Republican Chairman of Tipperary No. 2 District Council.

A British military patrol fired into the residence of J. O'Donoghill, Sundays Well, Kilkenny. On complaint to the military authorities O'Donoghue was curtly informed that the military would neither guarantee his future security nor express regret for their past assaults.

Two young men at Gort, County Galway, were held up by a British policeman who threatened to shoot them.

Miss Ellen Peters was wounded by British troops near Thomond Bridge, Limerick, in the course of indiscriminate firing by them from the windows of their barracks.

In Derry City a cycling patrol of British military fired at some civilians who were standing at their doors. Two were wounded—Kathleen Millar, who had a child in her arms, and a young man named Bernard Doherty. The latter died almost to death as a main artery was severed by a bullet.

British troops garrisoned in Tipperary Town issued forth from their barracks and marched through the streets, wrecking shop fronts and calling on "Sinn Feiners to come out and fight." The windows and practically every shop in Bridge street were broken.

Prior to the opening of an open air festival at Enniscorthy, County Wexford, a party of British soldiers seized a Republican flag from the members of the town band. Subsequently soldiers with fixed bayonets rushed through the streets scattering the people, and having smashed a window in the Municipal Building, seized an other Republican flag. They then drove through the town cheering and dragging the flag along the round.

NEW ALBANY.

The Knights of Columbus of New Albany had a most enjoyable celebration of Landing day on Tuesday evening in Holy Trinity Hall. A well arranged programme was presented, in which part was taken by Misses Ellen Lawrence Gardner, Helen Isabella Mitchell, Elsie Heckel, Mrs. Robert K. Van Pelt, Messrs. Tom O'Donnell, Frank Zurschmiede, Joe Rutledge, Norman Ritchie, Rex Richards. Rev. Father Paul, of St. Francis College, was the speaker of the evening, his address being much appreciated by the large audience.

K. OF C.

Members of Congress Willing to Provide Suitable Memorial Site in Washington.

Illinois State Commander Otis Wondertful Spirit and Watchfulness of "Caseys."

The Finest Offer Ever Made Comes Like a Bolt From the Blue.

KNIGHTS HAVE WON HEARTS.

Members of Congress of both parties have signified their willingness to work for the passage of a bill to provide for a suitable site in Washington for the proposed $5,000,000 national memorial building which the Knights of Columbus have offered to the American Legion, and American Legion posts in all parts of the country have wired the K. of C. headquarters expressing resolutions of appreciation of the offer. State Commander William R. Cauley, of Illinois, where the K. C. offer originated, sent the following word:

"Everyone who had anything to do with the 'Casey' during the war knows their wonderful spirit. This is but another instance of their watchfulness over the ex-service man, a duty they are performing as wholeheartedly now as they did during the war."

Explaining the motive of the offer, Supreme Knight James A. Flaherty, said: "We believe that a national memorial in Washington for our hero dead is appropriate and necessary, and we believe that the memorial should serve a useful as well as a sentimental purpose; furthermore the national capital needs the kind of building we propose to erect for the Legion. Our gift will probably save the taxpayers of the nation from providing a memorial building in Washington and also obviate the necessity of drives for this purpose. We know from scores of representative expressions that the offer has met with the approval of the donors of the K. of C. war fund."

First Vice Commander William F. Deegan, of the American Legion of New York State, declared Wednesday: "The Knights of Columbus offer comes like a bolt from the blue. Every post in New York discussed the offer last night. We are all enthusiastic about it and appreciate above all things that the offer, the finest ever made, is the offer of our own strings whatever attached to it, comes from the Knights of Columbus, who had already won our hearts through their generous war and reconstruction work."

The decision to offer $5,000,000 from their war fund to the American Legion for the purpose of erecting an American Legion war memorial and public welfare building in the national capital was made at the final session of the meeting of the Supreme Board of Directors of the Knights of Columbus at Chicago, Supreme Knight James A. Flaherty, Supreme Treasurer Daniel J. Callahan, Supreme Secretary William J. McGinley and Supreme Vice Joseph C. Pelletier, were named a committee from the K. of C. to formally tender the offer to the Legion. Saturday the Knights of Columbus formally offered the American Legion $5,000,000 for a building to be erected in Washington as a memorial to American service men killed during the war. James A. Flaherty, Supreme Knight, made the offer to Col. Fred W. Galbraith, National Commander of the American Legion.

Another lecture campaign against "Radical agitation" was launched in 1,000 cities and towns throughout the country by the Knights of Columbus, October 12. James A. Flaherty, Supreme Knight, in announcing campaign plans Saturday, said the order did not intend to attack anybody's politics, but "to make common sense," Archbishop Patrick J. Hayes, New York, was the principal speaker at the Columbus day celebration here, it was announced.

SURPRISING.

The aged priest editor of the Ave Maria considers it somewhat surprising that none of the Friends of Irish Freedom has thought of reproducing the subjoined resolutions drafted by the "Hon. A. Lincoln" at a meeting held in September, 1849, to express sympathy with the cause of Hungarian freedom. They may be found in the collection of Abraham Lincoln's "Early Speeches" (1832-1856), including legislative and Congressional resolutions, political circulars, notes, etc.

Resolved, That in view of their present glorious struggle for liberty, the Hungarians command our highest admiration and have our warmest sympathy.

Resolved, That they have our most ardent prayers for their speedy triumph and final success.

Resolved, That the Government of the United States should acknowledge the independence of Hungary as a nation of freemen at the very earliest moment consistent with our amicable relations with the Government against which they are contending.

Resolved, That in the opinion of this meeting the immediate acknowledgment of the independence is due from American freemen to their struggling brethren, to the general cause of Republican liberty, and not violative of the just rights of any nation of people.

CRUDE WORK.

The course of the Courier-Journal and Times the past week or ten days in their attempt to help Senator Beckham has at least been amusing, even though their efforts were crude and bungling. Up to a short time ago these two papers were bitter opponents of the Irish cause and boycotted the efforts of the Friends of Irish Freedom to the extent of refusing paid advertising for President De Valera's appearance here and a subsequent meeting. Cards of Rev. Father John O'Connor, President of the Friends of Irish Freedom, Rev. Father Walsh and others on the Irish cause were refused space in the Courier-Journal and Times. Senator Beckham's answer to the query of the Friends of Irish Freedom was printed with great gloze, however, and Beckham's refusal to vote for anything Irish answer fell flat, and everyone will concede it has fallen flat, the Bingham papers resorted to another course to help their friend. Daily for the past ten days the Courier-Journal and Times have devoted some space in the news columns and editorials to the Friends of Irish Freedom trying to enlist the society's support in a fight on Ernst, Beckham's opponent for Senator. But the Irish and Irish-American voters refuse to be fooled with this clumsy diplomacy of these Tory papers and they will vote against Beckham, who is classed by the Washington official bureau of the Friends of Irish Freedom as a "consistent voter against all Irish reservations."

THEY MUST VOTE.

It must be known to our Catholic women—for the matters have been rehearsed repeatedly in the press—that the national legislature will be interested at its next session with matters that vitally affect the moral well-being of the country; its Christian tradition; the spiritual health not only of its children but of the generations yet unborn. As the Indiana Catholic well says, any Catholic woman who has the power to affect such legislation and doesn't use that power is, in effect—we use the words advisedly—an enemy of true national interests and of Catholic welfare. If she abstains from voting she weakens her own cause and adds to the strength of the opposition. The silence of her voice through the ballot adds emphasis to the voice of the enemy. She serves the church or she serves against the church. To the question of national education, of child welfare, of marriage and divorce; of sex hygiene, of birth control—all of which vitally affect the home and the public morals—she can not be indifferent. The government is ours; the national life is ours just as much as it is any other citizen's or body of citizens'. We owe in constructive, abiding loyalty. We owe it the contribution of the best of our powers. Patriotism is just as necessary—indeed more so—in times of peace as in times of war. America's soul, America's independence is in our keeping, and next to our faith it is the most sacred treasure and inheritance that we possess. Indeed as it is a duty, so in a true way it is a part of our faith. It is for every one of us to have that soul express the truth of Christ in so far as we can bring it to such expression. American Catholic women, it may be added, must stand for American nationality and defend it against the internationalism that threatens it. We believe our Catholic women can be trusted to respond well for faith and nationality.

DUTY OF BOTH.

Until the employe puts as much diligence into his work as if he were his own employer, and until the employer pays his employe as good a wage as he would demand for himself were he an employe, there will be no reasonable hope for a cessation of industrial troubles. This is simply the Golden Rule adapted to the relations between Capital and Labor. We feel certain that it would be impossible to find a single sane person who would not acclaim this rule as just and fair. Why, then, are profession and practice at such variance?

SAVING REMEDY.

There is only one efficacious remedy for the killing and maiming due to the reckless driving of automobiles, and that is a term in jail or penitentiary for the guilty. Fines are ineffective: they are evidently powerless to check, much less to stop, the slaughter. Besides they place a very low value upon life and limb, and tend to lead the speed maniacs to imagine that their crime is, after all, not such an atrocious one as it really is.

UNNECESSARY.

Premier Lloyd George says that England will declare war on Ireland if the latter doesn't quit trying for its freedom. It seems like this threat from the hypocritical English dictator is unnecessary when day by day his hired assassins are murdering people in Ireland and carrying on a blood-thirsty war under official direction.

GRATES ON NERVES.

Editorially the Courier-Journal says that Bancroft's history of the United States and others of our school histories are unjust to Mother England and intimates that they should be toned up not to hurt the feelings of King George and his subjects. As for instance we must forget that English Gen. Braddock hired savage Indians to murder and mutilate our American forefathers.

WOMEN VOTERS.

We have always been opposed to female suffrage, and in principle we are as much opposed to it as ever; but now that the vote has been given to the gentler sex we are convinced that Catholic women should qualify themselves to exercise their franchise intelligently and for the best interests of home and country. It would be well, in our opinion, if there were established in every parish a school for women voters, where they could be taught how to mark and fold their ballots, and could be given any other instruction that may be necessary.

Lillian Russell, the actress, will speak here today for Harding and the Republican ticket. If Lil brings all her ex-husbands she is sure of a big audience.

REPRISALS DENOUNCED.

Thursday the Associated Press cabled from London that denunciation of the Government's Irish policy by the Liberal forces of the country, represented by the recent statements of Viscount Grey, former Premier Asquith and Viscount Morley, seems likely to grow into a formidable movement. The latest recruit is Lord Robert Cecil, one of the most respected of the Unionist leaders, who has joined Viscount Grey in a letter to the press calling for an investigation by a constitutional tribunal as to whether the Government is responsible for the reprisals. The letter begins by referring to Premier Lloyd George's Carnarvon speech as assuming that the reprisals have been confined to the shooting by police of those reasonably suspected of an intention to attack them or who had been incontrovertibly guilty of the murder of their fellows. It proceeds:

"That is a very incomplete account of the reprisals as reported in the press. It is alleged on apparently overwhelming evidence that the armed forces of the Crown have for months past systematically burned or destroyed buildings and other property in towns, villages and farms in Ireland; that they have fired rifles and thrown bombs at the inhabitants, and driven women and children of all ages and in all conditions of health in terror to the fields and mountains. These acts undoubtedly were committed in revenge for outrages perpetrated in the districts concerned, but they have not been confined to the individuals who have been guilty of such outrages. On the contrary, the victims have included Protestants and Unionists who used to be the bitter opponents of the Sinn Féin. It is further alleged that the policy which produced these results was sanctioned by the Ministers of the Crown, including the Prime Minister himself. These are grave charges and require full, open and immediate investigation by a constitutional tribunal."

OFFICERS ARE ELECTED.

District Deputy McNamara, of Elizabethton, completed the organization of the new Knights of Columbus at New Haven, when the following officers were elected: Grand Knight, Joseph F. Boone; Deputy Grand Knight, George B. Hagan; Financial Recording Secretary, P. D. Johnson; Treasurer, Carl Kirkpatrick; Advocate, W. A. Ferrell; Chancellor, George Humphrey; Warden, Frank M. Hagan; Inside Guard, Boone Peake; Outside Guard, A. M. Boone; Trustees, J. Walker, Bowling, H. F. DeSpaun and Martin A. Simms. FRIENDSHIP.

How nice to be remembered
By friends you like so well,
But sad to be forgotten
In words you can not tell.

True friendship we should value,
And cherish it with pride,
Perhaps too late to win it back
When once it's cast aside.

The same flame may linger there,
The longer just as great,
But somehow in our fond desire
We find it just too late.

TAKES FATHER BREY'S PLACE.

The Rev. John T. Hill, ordained twenty years ago and for the greater part of that time the zealous and beloved pastor of St. Ann's church, Seventh and Daviess, has been named by Bishop O'Donoghue to the pastorate of Holy Cross church, Thirty-second and Broadway, left vacant by the death of Rev. Celestine Brey. He will assume his new duties a week from tomorrow. Father Hill was born in Louisville and received his early education in St. John's school, this city. He later attended Mount St. Mary's College in Emmetsburg, and for a short time was stationed at the Cathedral on Fifth street. During his long service as pastor Father Hill has become widely known for his piety and energy. The people of St. Ann's parish are loath to sever their happy relationship with Father Hill, but one and all are rejoiced over his selection for the wider and more important charge, and with the community at large congratulate the pastorate of Holy Cross upon their good fortune in having placed over them so excellent a priest and spiritual shepherd. Father Hill will receive a real welcome as the pastor of Holy Cross.

D., pastor of St. John's church, will be the celebrant of the mass, and the Rev. John B. Dawkins, O. P., will deliver the eulogy. Tuesday the Right Rev. Denis O'Donoghue, Bishop of Louisville, will be present at the mass, the celebrant of which will be the Very Rev. James P. Cronin, V. G., pastor of St. Patrick's church, and the sermon will be by Rev. Daniel Linter, Franciscan order. The Holy Father has graciously granted a plenary indulgence to all those who fulfill the usual conditions and make a visit to the church where the solemn triduum is being held.

RECITAL A SUCCESS.

The sacred organ recital given Sunday afternoon by Miss Lillian Trudeau at Sacred Heart church was a most pronounced success and was indeed a musical treat for the large congregation that filled the church. Miss Trudeau's performance on the organ was perfect and a real surprise to her ardent admirers. She was assisted by Mrs. Patrick O'Sullivan and Harry Clarke, whose solos were artistically and perfectly rendered, as was also the violin obligato by L. J. Fitzmayer. An excellent choir, the closing number, the Hallelujah Chorus, the volume of which could be heard far outside the church. Rev. Father Walsh, the pastor, expressed appreciation for himself and the congregation, hoping that ere long there would be another like recital.

BRIDAL SHOWER.

Mrs. George Isaacs was hostess at a very enjoyable shower for her daughter in Delaney Place, given in honor of Miss Gertrude M. Bronger, whose marriage to Walter C. Various activities of the most interesting kind have been arranged for, and a big feature will be the tasty lunch to be served from 5 o'clock on at the unusual price of thirty-five cents. And enough for all is promised.

CLOSING OF RETREAT.

The retreat being given at St. Boniface for the members and friends of St. Helena's Co-operative Club, of which Miss Rena C. Welserberg is President, will come to a most successful close tomorrow. The evening services have been largely attended, the church being well filled every evening. Rev. Daniel Linter, O. P. M., formerly of Cincinnati, but now attached to St. Boniface church, was the retreat master. St. Helena's Club has now a membership of 1,000, recruited principally from Louisville business women.

Though not unexpected, the many friends of Mrs. Josephine Wrocklage, beloved wife of Fred J. Wrocklage, regret to learn of her death on Monday at her home, 1446 Bardstown road, following a long illness borne with patience and Christian fortitude. Until she was stricken she was an active church and charity worker in Catholic circles, where her presence will be missed. Besides her husband she leaves four brothers and one sister. CATHOLIC ALUMNAE.

The International Federation of Catholic Alumnae, with headquarters in Washington, held its biennial meeting at the Brunswick Hotel in Boston. The sessions began October 8 and continued to October 12. One of the principal features of the meeting was the address Friday by Cardinal O'Connell. There are three Kentucky delegates at the meeting—Miss Bettie McKenna, who is the proxy of the Governor of the Kentucky chapter; Miss Helen English, representing Nazareth Alumnae, and Miss Mary Corcoran, representing La Salette Academy of Covington. La Salette Academy of Covington, La. Salette, at Covington, Immaculate, at Newport; St. Vincent's, in Union county. Reports from these seven societies were read at Boston by Miss McKenna.

HOME DIRECTORS MEET.

The regular monthly meeting of the Board of Directors of the Visitation Home for working girls was held Monday afternoon. There was a good attendance and the reports were very satisfactory. Good progress is being made, though there still remains quite an amount of important work to be completed. This is one of the institutions Louisville should be really proud of.

THEY ARE BUSY.

The Passionist fathers of the Sacred Heart Retreat are being kept busy giving missions and retreats in the Western States. Father Raphael Grashof, C. P., is at St. Paul, Minn., and there and in surrounding territory he will be giving missions for the next month. The Rev. Father Leander Berlinger, C. P., rector of Sacred Heart Retreat, is at Hartwell, O., giving a retreat to the Sisters of St. Clara's convent, the provincial house and novitiate of the Franciscan Sisters. The Rev. Father Xavier Sutton, C. P., is also conducting missions in the West.

And Beckham's Prohibition Followers Are Conducting the Campaign Most Unsatisfactorily.

Democrats Resent Idea of a Campaign Conducted Only For Beckham's Interests.

Cantrell, Camden, Callahan, Stanley and Other Leaders Conspicuous by Absence.

A HANDICAP FOR GOV. COX.

Kentucky Democrats are far from satisfied with the policy of the present Democratic Campaign Committee, and the supporters of Gov. Cox and the Congressional nominees are murmuring that the State headquarters could just as well be termed the "Beckham headquarters." With the growing sentiment in Kentucky for Gov. Cox one can see that it would be an easy task to foster this enthusiasm into a big Democratic majority in November. But this is not being done and the impression is growing that all energies and efforts are being put forth to save Beckham's scalp. The headquarters leave one with the impression that the motto is "Put none but Beckham men on guard." Chairman Gray, a staunch prohibitionist and life-long Beckham adherent, is in charge; H. L. McChesney, former prohibition candidate for Governor, has charge of the speaking allotments, and Elwood Hamilton, Collector of Internal Revenue, is one of the chief advisers and campaign directors. The Generalissimo and Commander-in-Chief is none other than Beckham's right-hand bower, Percy Haly, who is one of the three fathers of prohibition in Kentucky, Beckham and Dr. Palmer, of Michigan, being the others.

Kentucky Democrats have wondered why the entire State campaign has been turned over to the Beckham followers and what has become of Congressman Cantrell, Senator Camden, Col. P. H. Callahan, Senator Stanley and other leaders, whom one would expect to see taking an active part in a Presidential campaign. The story goes that when all of the leaders assembled in the spring to select a Chairman, Haly attends the conference and brings John L. Gray as the personal selection of him and Beckham and forestalling even a discussion as to his advisability or giving anyone an opportunity to even suggest a Chairman. What has happened is evident to every Democrat who has the welfare of the party at heart. Congressman Cantrell four years ago served as Campaign Chairman, and without sufficient funds to meet expenses carried the State for Wilson by a majority of 31,000 against Hughes and an enormous campaign fund in the hands of Republican National Committeeman Tobe Hirt. Today Mr. Cantrell is working in the national campaign headquarters when his aid and advice would add a tower of strength to the Cox campaign in Kentucky.

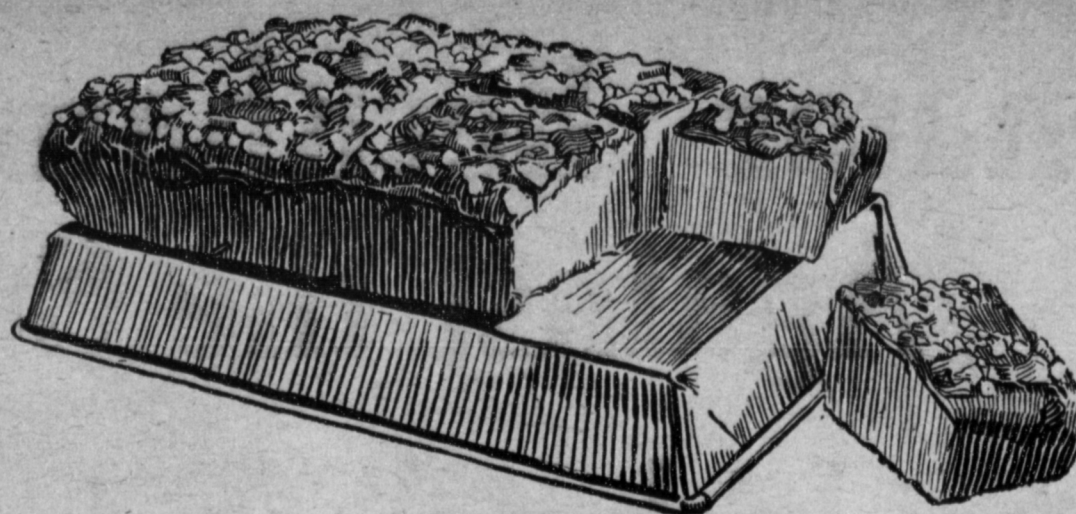

Senator Johnson Camden, whom there is no more liberal or stronger Democrat in Kentucky, is not attached to the State headquarters nor any of his friends, and he is reported to have contributed $2,500 to the campaign when those who know him well say that he would under proper circumstances have given ten times that amount. It is also significant that none of Senator Camden's friends are put on the firing line either. Next comes Col. P. H. Callahan, to whom every Democrat in the State owes a vote of thanks for his untiring energy in reorganizing the party just after its disastrous defeat of last November and when the spirit in the party was at a low ebb. It was Col. Callahan to whom Senator Stanley paid such a glowing tribute at the last State convention, eulogizing him for his work of reorganization. Today Col. Callahan is shoved aside when he should be at the front in the State campaign.

And then comes Senator A. O. Stanley himself, who bears the distinction of carrying the banner of Democracy to victory in many a glorious fight, and who defeated the blustering Ed Morrow in a campaign featured by treachery of some of the Democrats who are now posing as leaders. None of Senator Stanley's friends are in the advisory councils of the campaign directors and a fellow townsman from Henderson is his only representative on the campaign committee. As a fighter, vote getter and campaigner Senator Stanley ranks second to none in the United States, his string of victories proving that and here at his late day few of us ever hear of his part in the campaign.

There is no doubt in the mind of anyone that Gov. Cox will carry Kentucky, for which no thanks are due to the Haly-Beckham combination directing party affairs, but that result would be doubly assured if the direction of the campaign had not been seized by Beckham's friends. Everyone knows that Beckham has proven a terrible handicap to Gov. Cox and the Democratic Congressional nominees, and they and their friends should rebel at the idea of a State campaign being conducted chiefly in the aid of an unpopular nominee. Percy Haly and his aids directing the campaign should be served notice that the rank and file of Democracy resent their conduct of the State campaign and that the election of Beckham is not uppermost in the minds of the party followers.

WANT TO KNOW.

Decline in the price of cereals during the past two or three months has cost the farmers of the country about $2,000,000,000, according to estimates of agricultural experts. We have little doubt of the accuracy of the estimate. But what we want to know is how this decline in price has affected the consumer. Has the profiteer absorbed it all or has the lower price been passed on to the consumer? We venture to believe that the profiteer got most of it.

USELESS DISCLAIMER.

The publicity given to newspapers in Ireland by some papers in America has evidently had some effect. Press dispatches, last week, feature an address of Sir Hamar Greenwood in which he deplores the atrocities and requests his listeners in Ireland to refrain from further reprisals. So far, so good.
But what is Sir Hamar going to do about the punishment of those guilty of those heinous crimes? The sacking of towns and the murder of inoffensive citizens is notorious. The guilty parties are also well known. Have any steps been taken to bring them to justice? Not that anyone has heard of Sir Hamar's speech seems to be just a camouflage for further atrocities.
He would leave the world under the impression that these atrocities
were committed without the sanction of higher authority. The statement of one of the men who sacked Balbriggan disposes of that subterfuge.
The fact is that the worst element in England was formed into the so-called auxiliary police and sent to Ireland for the deliberate purpose of committing such atrocities as those at Balbriggan, Trim, Lisacarrill and a score of other towns in Ireland.
The man who tells how Balbriggan was sacked relates how hateful was the dirty work to even these hardened characters of the slums of London. But they had their orders and they were plentifully supplied with liquor to nerve them for the barbarities and to quiet any qualms
of conscience afterwards.
In view of this statement how hollow is the pretense of Greenwood that these atrocities were not planned and approved beforehand by those in authority. Nothing that was done in Belgium during the war
could be compared to the beastly atrocities perpetrated in Ireland during the past few weeks. And it is useless for Sir Hamar Greenwood or anyone else to deny the responsibility of the British Government for these atrocities. These are not excesses committed hundreds of years ago or perpetrated by irresponsible looters. They are the work of those directly under the authority of the British Government and Great Britain must bear the responsibility for them to her eternal disgrace
among civilized peoples.

THOUSANDS OF OUTRAGES.
Arthur Griffith, Vice President of the Republic of Ireland, on Monday
made specific reply to the blanket indictment of Sinn Fein Ireland by Premier Lloyd George. He gave a list of the outrages Sinn Fein accuses to the British occupying army and to the "Black and Tan" police since January 1, 1919. It includes seventy-seven murders of unarmed civilians, including women and children; the sacking and burning of 102 towns; 1,604 armed assaults; 4,982 arrests and imprisonments; 38,720 armed raids on private houses.

DEFEAT FORETOLD.
The Kentucky Irish American is informed that a wager
of $1,000 is offered that Senator Beckham will be defeated in the coming election, this proving the old adage that
"straws show which way the opportunity for Beckham's

friends who are not yet convinced that the voters are determined to be rid of Beckham and the Haly-Beckham

COCKRAN Famous Irish Orator Speaks to Large Audience Here Friday Night.
Is Making Speaking Tour of Kentucky For Election of Gov.
Cox.
What He Said For Ireland Before
Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

SHOWS UP BECKHAM'S STAND.
Hon. Bourke Cockran, of New York, who is making a tour of Kentucky under the auspices of the Democratic party, spoke here last night for Gov. Cox, addressing an immense gathering. Being too late for full report in this issue, and realizing the interest felt in the utterances of the eloquent New Yorker, we today present our readers extracts from his speeches on the Irish recognition question, which engenders the public interest everywhere. Addressing the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, he said:
"I think it should be made clear
at the outset—that if to free Ireland—to make her the most prosperous country the world has ever seen—it were necessary to put a violent or unfriendly or even an unsympathetic hand upon one single feature of our constitution, I would say—and I believe every man of Irish blood in America would say—
"Respect the constitution embodying American freedom though everything else must perish."

"I contend that when in any country the government is controlled by an alien nation and is found exercising its powers not to protect life and liberty, but to oppress one and destroy the other, that government is a discredit to civilization
which all the forces of civilization should unite to overthrow and remove. That principle was adopted and made an essential feature of our foreign policy when this Government at the point of the sword put an end to the oppressive, barbarous perversion of government maintained in Cuba by Spain.
"Now conditions in Ireland today are vastly worse than they were in Cuba twenty-one years ago. That is the first proposition on which you are asked to report favorably to this bill; which pray bear in mind is not a measure for intervention by force of arms, but merely for recognition of the government that the Irish people have themselves erected to displace the vicious misgovernment imposed on them by a foreign nation, which for several centuries has been a dark stain on the civilization of Christendom. Let me be suspected of exaggeration the Irish you know are said to be a nation of rhetoricians, more remarkable for exaggeration of their metaphors
than for accuracy of their statements. I will mention just one fact which is absolutely clear, which must serve to make absolutely clear the character of the conditions against which the Irish people have long been in revolt, and to end which they are now in revolution.
"If anyone of you gentlemen appeared in Ireland and delivered a Fourth of July speech—that is to say, if you made a speech praising the principles which we celebrate and glorify in our Fourth of July speech, he would be arrested. He would be locked up. But not in an Irish prison. He would be deported to England and there incarcerated.
His whereabouts would be kept concealed. No charge would be made against him. But he would be under lock and key until the British Government became satisfied that he had been intimidated to a degree
where he would never again venture to breathe doctrines deemed so petrious in an atmosphere of tyranny as those embodied in our Declaration of Independence. To state this—and the statement can not be questioned—is to describe conditions wholly irreconcilable with our civilization. But it does not by any means describe fully the barbaric methods to which Ireland is subjected by its alien rulers. It is a fact absolutely undisputed that Ireland is freer from crime than any other country in the world. Yet in proportion to the population there are more of its inhabitants in jail at this moment than in any other country. And the acts for which these men and women are held prisoners as criminals are acts which you celebrate as virtues—every one of them. Gentlemen, that statement rests not on my authority or on the authority of any man of Irish blood, but on the authority of Englishmen; and of Englishmen
who are among the strongest opponents of Irish emancipation.
"If these conditions in Ireland which shock the conscience of Christendom were merely temporary
—if there were the slightest ground
for hoping that they could be cured
or remedied under the Government responsible for them—there might be some reason for refusing to enact this measure. We did not interfere in Cuba until it became clear that Spain could not govern the island except through measures so barbarous that they were subversive of our civilization. Her helplessness
in this respect had been estab-

THE ENTIRE ROYAL FAMILY OF SPAIN.

A new and interesting group photo of the royal family of Spain and their guests at the Miramar honso is shown on the top with his Palace at San Sebastian. King Alp arms folded. Queen Victoria is seated in the next row center. The Prince of Asturias, heir to the throne, is seated in front of his mother with his younger brother, Prince Jaime, to his left. Princess Christina and Princess Beatrice are shown in front row. Prince Gonzalo and Prince Juan are shown seated with their mother, the Queen. Others in the group are Queen Maria Christina, Prince Carlos and Princess de Lusa, Prince Fernando, Prince Gabriele, Duchess de San Carlos, Marquess de Montezuma, Marquis de Viana and Prince Pio de Saboya.

TAKE INITIAL GAME.

St. Xavier's College staged its initial football contest Saturday afternoon when the strong Green and Gold team battled with St. Joseph's College of Bardonia for the championship of the Xavierian schools of Kentucky. St. X. turned winner after a fiercely fought contest which terminated in the score of 12 to 6. From start to finish the game was one of thrills. On both sides there was quite a good deal of fumbling, which proved costly. During the first half a score was made by neither team. While St. Joseph's started in the tackling line St. X. had a wonderful defense, and it was rarely that that defense was penetrated. To Richardson and Bannon go the credit of the two scores received by St. X. Keltner, for St. X., and little Burton, for St. Joseph's, played a wonderful game. Special mention, however, is due Jimmy Foley and Shelley Bannon, of the St. X. crew, who rushed the Bardonia line for gains every time they got the ball. Today St. X. lines up against a stronger team, that of Cathedral High School of Indianapolis.

TAKING BRIDES.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward A. Barry announce the engagement of their accomplished and pretty daughter, Miss Virginia Catherine Barry, to Clifford Zeigler. The wedding will take place in November.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Bronger announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Gertrude M. Bronger, to Walter C. Schonburg, of Cincinnati. The wedding will take place on Wednesday morning, October 27, at St. William's church.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Braehler have issued invitations to the marriage of their daughter, Miss Anna Braehler, to Arthur D. Silberg. The wedding will take place at 8 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, October 20, at St. Anthony's church.

REAL MINSTREL SHOW.

All is in readiness for the big minstrel show to be given by the Columbia Minstrels at St. Helen's Commercial Club on Tuesday, October 26, for the benefit of St. Paul's church, Pleasure Ridge. The entertainment will be one of the most unique and pretentious attempted by the Columbians, who have always been good. Comicality will be the dominant note from start to finish. Song and dance will abound, and gorgeous costumes will also combine to enhance the versatility of the minstrels in a "merry whirl."

FRAMES MADE BRIGHT.

To brighten gilt frames take sufficient flowers of sulphur to give a golden tinge to about one and a half pints of water and in this boil four or five bruised onions or garlic, which will answer the same purpose. Strain off the liquid and with it, when cold, wash with a soft brush any gilding which requires restoring, and when dry it will come out as bright as new.

INTERESTING MEETINGS.

At the meeting of Division 4, A. O. H., Monday evening in Bertrand Hall, Chairman Joseph D. Hennessy announced that the Entertainment Committee had planned to have a speaker of note at the second meeting of each month during the fall and winter, the next talk to be Monday, October 25, John A. Doyle was the first speaker, his talk on the work of the St. Vincent de Paul Society at the last meeting making quite an impression on the members and the address brought new members to the St. Vincent de Paul organization.
